PREFACE

The author wishes to express his sincere appreciation to the various members of the Warner Family for their cooperation and assistance during his preparation of the history of that family. The records of the younger generations are copied from data sent the author by their immediate families and are correct to the extent that the data was which he received. The records of the older generations are copied from old histories, church records, court records, family Bibles, etc., in the East. If any should question any of the facts herein written, the author can give that person the exact volume which contains the statement in Philadelphia or Baltimore. For data on the younger generations the author holds the data sent by each family as a proof of their validity.

The author has other facts about distant members of the family which are not in the direct line. They are not included in this history for the reason that the author wanted to keep the cost of printing as low as possible and, too, he thought that facts about them would not much concern the readers. However he will gladly send any one, who would desire the same, anything which he has. He will also gladly explain anything which this volume contains.

For any facts which may be desired merely address the author.

ENGLAND—NATIVE HOME OF THE WARNERS

One of the first questions one will ask when speaking of your ancestors is, "Where did your forefathers come from to this country?" We, the Warner Family, are also interested in this. The native home of the Warners is England. They are of an old English Family and had been in England since 1066, the time of the Norman Conquest. They were landholders in England following that Conquest and their name is recorded in the noted Domesday Book, which was compiled following the Conquest. In this noted Book the name bears the Latin ending and is spelled Warnerus. Old records show that eventually Warners lived in various places in England. Our particular branch of the family emigrated to America from Worcestershire, England, and settled along the Delaware River before the advent of the Quakers. Colonial records show that various emigrants of Warner name came to various places in the colonies, many of which came from the counties adjoining Worcestershire. Some settled in New England and some settled in Virginia. George Washington descended from the latter family.

The particular branch of the family from which we descended had been long seated in the locality of Worcestershire, England. There was born here about the year 1550 one Richard Warner. Richard was the father of six children, one of which was John Warner, born in the Parish of Blockley, Worcestershire, England about 1582. John married to Margaret ——— and had with her eleven children as follows: John (died young), Mary, Thomas, Richard, Robert, William, Edward, John (2nd), Anthony, Isaac (died young), Isaac (2nd). Both Richard Warner and his son, John, were members of the Parish Church of Blockley.

CAPT. WILLIAM WARNER AND HIS SETTLEMENT IN AMERICA

William Warner, son of John and Margaret Warner, was born at Draycott, Parish of Blockley, Worcestershire, England about 1627. He married in England to one Anne Dyde. According to family tradition he became a captain in Cromwell's army during the Commonwealth. In 1660, when Charles II was restored to the English throne after Cromwell's death, Capt. Warner became the follower of a lost cause. He had to make himself "scarce" in England and, of course, sought another place of safety. He eventually sought safety in America.

All evidence points to the fact that William and Anne (Dyde) Warner and family with other members of the family from Draycott, Worcestershire, England, emigrated to the plantations of the Delaware River on board the ship, Griffin, in the fall of 1675, of which expedition Major Fenwick was the leader. They came with the intention of settling in West Jersey, but because of the trouble in Fenwick's colony as regarded land surveys and titles, many changed their plans and later sought land on the west side of the Delaware, in what became Pennsylvania after the coming of William Penn.

William Warner probably remained on the Jersey side of the Delaware until the year 1678. He then crossed the river and took up a plantation along the Schuylkill River. Some of the land he purchased direct from the Indians, but after the coming of Penn, he had to secure a survey and patent for it. His home plantation, which he called "Blockley" was a part of a large tract of land which he purchased direct from the Indians. He later purchased other lands joining it. William Warner was living on his plantation "Blockley" at least as early as August, 1684. The region was then covered by stately forests, the growth of centuries, and "great quantities of rabbits, squirrels, pheasants, etc." infested the dense wilds of William Warner's plantation (on which today stands Philadelphia, the magnificent city of "Brotherly Love"). In the midst of these primitive surroundings, William Warner resided until his death in the Autumn of 1706. His house, perhaps the first erected west of Schuylkill River, was situated on the west bank of that river, a short distance north of present Girard Avenue. Nearby was the landing place from which, according to family tradition, he rowed out in his boat with his gun to a rock where he fished and shot ducks, his large dog usually accompanying him to recover the ducks. Warner's Rock, as it was called, is no longer visible since the erection of a dam in that river.

William Warner was very prominent in the affairs of his day. He was deputy sheriff for awhile and a justice in the courts under the leadership of William Penn's deputy governor, Markham. He was also a member of the Second Provincial Assembly, which met in Philadelphia in 1684.

William and Anne (Dyde) Warner were Puritans while in England. After coming to America and associating with members of the Society of Friends, most of their children married into that sect, although there is no evidence that William and Anne ever belonged to any of their meetings.

Anne (Dyde) Warner survived her husband. By his will he divided his lands between his sons, John and Isaac, and his deceased daughter's husband, James Kite and his children. His son, William, was provided for by other means. To his son, Robert, in England, he gave his estate at Draycott, Worcestershire, England. His estate "Blockley" went to his widow and son, Isaac.

JOHN WARNER AND HIS FAMILY

John Warner, eldest son of William, was born in England in 1649. He married for his wife, Anne Campden, of Gloucestershire, England. He came to America probably with his father and other relatives in 1675 and later located a plantation on the west bank of Schuylkill River above his father's estate "Blockley". He also owned an island in that river near his plantation.

John Warner served as a member of the Provincial Assembly in Philadelphia from 1713 to 1715. He resided on his plantation on the Schuylkill River until his death April 12, 1717. His wife, Anne (Campden) Warner, had preceded him in death, July 19, 1715. John Warner lived in the style of a gentleman of landed estate. On his plantation he built a large log house which stood for many years and was occupied by the descendants. By his will he divided his lands among his three sons, William, Isaac, and John. To his son, Joseph and daughters he gave his personal estate. John and Anne (Campden) Warner were members of the Society of Friends.

MORDECAI WARNER AND HIS FAMILY

As was stated above Mordecai (sometimes spelled Mor-dica) was born of Aseph and Ruth (Ellicott) Warner on Deer Creek, Harford Co., Md., Tues., May 6, 1788. He was a very intelligent man and soon learned the trades of millright, silver-smith, and coppersmith. The first he gained from his Ellicott forefathers who were very influential in the construction of mills for the manufacture of flour in eastern Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Following the above trades Mordecai Warner went up along the Delaware river among his relatives. Here in Plumstead Twp., Bucks Co., Penna. on Jan. 14, 1815 he was united in marriage, by Squire Brice Pursell, with Jane Lewis, daughter of John and Rachel (Fox) Lewis.

John and Rachel Lewis had considerable wealth in the form of land in eastern Penna. and western N. J. Most of their land was in Penna., but he owned a small tract in Alexandria (now Kingwood) Twp., Hunterdon Co., N. J. When his children married he gave each a home for a wedding present. When his daughter married Mordecai Warner he gave her a small home in his N. J. tract as he did also his daughter Elizabeth (Lewis) Carver. This small home together with the additional acres he gave her at his death became the Warner Homestead of N. J. Mordecai constructed a house on it soon, which with much remodeling is still standing. The farm never had a mortgage on it and was always in the Warner Family until 1928 when it went to strangers. It was located in the uplands of Hunterdon Co. about a mile east of the Delaware river. Mordecai Warner family always lived here with the exception of about three years from 1829 to 1832 which they spent in Philadelphia. Mordecai had much work in Philadelphia and it was so far from the Homestead that he moved the family there. They lived on Girard Ave. and Mordecai is connected with the building of a college on that street. They lived there about three years; then the family moved back to the homestead in New Jersey.

Modercai Warner is described as a moderately large man with red hair, a red complexion, and blue eyes. He was especially noted for an extreme intelligence. He made all his own tools and many of the utensils for the house. He helped in the construction of water wheels at various places along the Delaware river and elsewhere.

Modecai Warner died at the Homestead on July 10, 1842 of appendicitis, then called inflammation of the bowels. He was buried at the burial grounds of the Buckingham Friends Meeting House. There is no evidence that he was ever associated with any Friends Meeting after he was dismissed in 1809 from the Deer Creek Mtg. in Maryland because of his tendencies to follow arts of warfare.

Jane Warner was born of John and Rachel Lewis in Plumstead Twp., Bucks Co., Penna. on July 10, 1793. She was the sixth child of a family of nine children. She lived in Bucks Co. Penna. until her marriage to Mordecai Warner when she went to live in New Jersey. She was a very estimable and loving woman and under her care the children grew up to be good and honest citizens. She has been spoken of as the grand old lady of the family. She was a Godfearing woman of Quaker faith. She lived to be quite old. In the latter years of her life they held an anniversary at the Homestead for her on her birthday. It was a great day for the Warner and Lewis Families. Her son John L. Warner had moved to Ohio and could not attend; but they packed a box of the dinner while they all sat at the table and sent it to him.

Jane (Lewis) Warner died at the Homestead on Sept. 22, 1884 in the 92nd. year of her age and was buried in the Buckingham Quaker Burial Ground in Bucks Co., Penna. In this cemetery they did not bury in family rows; they buried as friend with friend just as they died, but when her daughter Charity died room was left by her for her mother. Mordecai is several rows from them

SKETCH OF JOHN LEWIS WARNER

John Lewis Warner was born of Mordecai and Jane (Lewis) Warner near the homestead in Alexandria Twp.
(Now Kingwood Twp.), Hunterdon Co., N. J., on Tuesday,
Nov. 27, 1815. He was a namesake of his Grandfather Lewis.
He grew to manhood at the homestead together with the three years the family spent in Philadelphia.

He was a man of intelligence. He learned the trade of millright from his father; he also secured a teacher's certificate and taught school in the East. In 1836 at the age of 21, having heard of employment in western Penna. and dissatisfied with the tide of affairs in N. J., he decided to go "West." He came to Fayette Co., Penna., along the Monongehala River. Here he worked at the millright trade; he also taught school here and farmed.

Here in Washington (Now Jefferson) Twp., Fayette Co.,

Penna., on Thursday, Feb. 2, 1837, John L. Warner was united in marriage to Amelia Charity Wells. Charity Wells-Warner was the daughter of James and Mary (Scarborough) Wells and was born in Washington (Now Jefferson) Twp., Fayette Co., Penn., on Friday, May 7, 1819.

In Fayette Co., Penna., the following children were born to John L. and Charity (Wells) Warner:

James Wells Warner	-----	Dec. 16, 1838
Mordecai John Warner	-----	Feb. 20, 1841
Thomas Burton Warner	-----	May 19, 1843
Mary Jane Warner	-----	Dec. 10, 1845
Margaret Matilda Warner	-----	May 30, 1848
Joseph Cuthbert Warner	-----	Nov. 18, 1850

In April of 1851 the family moved in a road wagon to the vicinity of Batesville, Ohio, which had recently been taken from Guernsey Co. to help make up the newly formed Noble Co. They first settled in Beaver Twp. on Beaver Creek below the present site of the Palestine Church. They later lived at various places along Beaver Creek. John L. Warner taught school after coming to Noble Co. He taught his last term on Beaver Creek. He also worked some at the millright trade, but the pay in these was too small to support a large family.

Here the following children were born (Along Beaver Creek):

William Stotler Warner	-----	June 21, 1853
George Washington Warner	-----	Aug. 9, 1856
Samuel Silas Warner	-----	Jan. 2, 1859

About 1860 they moved to the Finley place in Seneca Twp. on Mud Run. Here was born:

Aseph Ellsworth Warner	-----	Sept. 18, 1861
------------------------	-------	----------------

They now returned to Beaver Creek --about five miles west of Batesville and lived a while, moving from there to Glady Valley. Here was born:

Ulysses S. Grant Warner	-----	May 19, 1864
-------------------------	-------	--------------

Next the family moved to Dougherty Station in Monroe Co. near Summerfield. Then they moved to Calais and lived about a year. They now moved back to Glady Valley about two miles north of Summerfield.

From here in the fall of 1874 the family moved to Gorrel's Run near Middlebourne, Tyler Co., W. Va., where some of their married children already lived. (They were then married down to William S. Warner.) They lived at various places in the vicinity of Middlebourne.

After the children were all married and the health of John L. and Charity was broken they went to live with their children, spending most of their time with daughter Mary Jane Reed, although they spent part of one winter with their children in Ohio.

In Tyler Co., W. Va., at the home of their daughter Mary Jane Reed, John Lewis Warner died Mar. 31, 1891, aged 75 yrs. 4 mo. and 4 days. Here also Charity (Wells) Warner died Aug. 29, 1892 aged 73 yrs. 3 mo. and 22 days. They were both buried at the Lazear's Chapel Church Graveyard along the road from Middlebourne to Sistersville.

John L. Warner is a forefather of whom none need be ashamed. He inherited Quaker faith and always stuck to it although he never attended their mtgs. after leaving N. J. In politics he was a staunch Republican. He was a kind and honest neighbor and a friend of all. He never had much of this world's goods, but true greatness doesn't lie in "glittering coins." He died from the effects of a fever sore at his knee which he carried from early life.

SKETCH OF MORDECAI JOHN WARNER

Mordecai John Warner was born of John and Charity (Wells) Warner near Brownsville, Fayette Co., Pa., on Saturday, Feb. 20, 1841. In April of 1851 he moved with his father's family to Beaver Twp., Noble Co., O. Here he was united in marriage on Mar. 9, 1858, with Sydney Ellen Mercer (Sept. 12, 1840-Dec. 15, 1895), daughter of Mrs. Lucinda Mercer of Beaver Twp.

To this union seven children were born: Anna Mary Warner-Mercer; Charity Angeline Warner-Benneth; Rebecca Jane Warner-Bennett; Viola Frances Warner; Sarah Ellen Warner-Weekley; an infant; an infant.

Mr. Warner lived in Noble Co. for a while after his marriage. He went to Illinois, but did not remain long. He returned to Noble Co., but went to W. Va. in 1874.

After the death of his first wife on Dec. 15, 1895, he was united in marriage on Aug. 18, 1896, with Mary "Mollie" Chapman (Born Mar. 17, 1860), daughter of Alfred W. and Elizabeth (Kinney) Chapman. To this union no children were born.

He united with the Beaver Baptist Church in Beaver Twp. Noble Co., O., in 1855, but later transferred his membership to the church in W. Va.

Mr. Warner was an extremely large man, weighing about 350 lbs. a short time before his death. He died of dropsy and heart trouble at his home in Middlebourne, W. Va., on June 20, 1907, the first of the eleven children to die. He was buried beside his first wife at the Simpson's Chapel Church Graveyard on Elk Fork, Tyler Co., W. Va.

(A record of his descendants follows this sketch.)

A FEW REMARKS OF THE AUTHOR

John L. and Charity Warner and their eleven children were never all together at one time. James W. Warner and Mordecai J. Warner were married before Samuel, Aseph, and Grant Warner were born. However they were at one time all at home in one day, but not at the same time. After the death of John L. and Charity Warner, the eleven children met at Sisterville, W. Va., on Sept. 22, 1904. As a matter of curiosity they were all weighed on scales at the same time and weighed 2250 lbs. The picture of the eleven children was taken that day.

The annual reunion of the descendants of John L. and Charity (Wells) Warner was started on Aug. 15, 1929. Every year since that date the family has gathered at Woodsfield, Ohio, fairgrounds some day in August and held their reunion.

THE ELLICOTT, FOX, HODGE, AND KEEKEWICH LINE OF FAMILY

(Ancestors of Ruth Ellicott-Warner)

The Ellicott Family in England seems to have had the same ancestor, but to have become divided from each other, on account of their religious beliefs, some adhering to the Church of England and others separating themselves from it and becoming members of the Society of Friends; our particular branch doing the latter. Traditional accounts of the Ellicott Family represent it as of Saxon origin and to have been in Devonshire, England at the time William the Conqueror defeated Harold the Saxon king in 1066.

Andrew (II) Ellicott, son of Andrew (I) and Eliz. (Hodge) Ellicott, was married to Mary Fox, daughter of Francis and Tabitha (Croker) Fox of St. Germans in Cornwall, England, in Friends Meeting on Feb. 10, 1707. (Francis Fox and Tabitha Croker were married Mar. 30, 1686. He was the son of Francis and Dorothy (Keekewich) Fox who were married in 1646. Francis Fox, Sr. died in 1670; Dorothy, his wife, in 1693. Francis Fox, Jr. died in 1704; Tabitha, his wife, in 1730. The Crokers were a very noted English family. Tabitha was the daughter of George Croker who was the son of Francis Croker who was the son of Hugh Croker. The Croker family is inter-married with noted Churchhill family of England making the descendants of Tabitha Croker-Fox descendants of that family.)

Family of Andrew (II) and Mary (Fox) Ellicott:

1. Andrew (III) Ellicott, b. July 11, 1708, d. June of 1741.

How Ellicotts Came to America

Andrew (II) Ellicott who married to Mary Fox, was a woolen manufacturer in Callumpton, England. He was unsuccessful in business and decided to visit Bucks Co., Penna. with Andrew (III), his eldest son, early in the year 1731, leaving his wife, daughter Mary, and son Joseph in England. They did not come to America with the intention on staying, but while in Bucks Co. the son became attached to Anne Bye, daughter of Nathaniel and Martha (Pearson) Bye who were large landholders in Buckingham Twp. The father and son returned to Philadelphia to embark for England, but the son said that he could not return as he loved Anne Bye. The father and son went back to Buckingham and selected for their future home a farm containing 50 acres of land near the Buckingham Friends Meeting House. The father never returned to England. After his departure from England, his wife paid his debts from her personal property and was anxious for his return. As these were the only Ellicotts who ever immigrated to America, we thus see of what great importance this attachment to Anne Bye was to the descendants.

Ellicotts in America

Andrew (III) Ellicott and Ann Bye were married at the Buckingham Monthly Meeting of Friends on Aug. 17, 1731.

Children of Andrew (III) and Anne (Bye) Ellicott:

Andrew (III) Ellicott died of pleurisy in Bucks Co., Penna. in June of 1741. After his death a kind man by the name of Samuel Armitage took much care of his children. Anne Bye-Ellicott married for her second husband in 1744 George Wall, an Englishman. She had two children with him, George Wall and Mary Wall-Dixon. Ann Bye-Ellicott-Wall departed this life in Bucks Co. Aug. 21, 1786. She is described as a large woman highly esteemed for her medical knowledge.

Thomas Ellicott, fourth son of Andrew (III) and Anne (Bye) Ellicott, was born in Bucks Co., Penna. Mar. 16, 1738. He was a man of distinguished mechanical ability and contributed largely toward bringing mills for the manufacture of flour to perfection in the colonies (now United States). He superintended the building of mills in Bucks Co. and owned one himself.

Thomas Ellicott married in Quaker Meeting Oct. 26, 1763 to Anne Ely. She was the daughter of Thomas and Sarah (Lowther) Ely and was born in Buckingham Twp., Bucks Co., Penna., May 4, 1742.

Children of Thomas and Ann (Ely) Ellicott:

Ann (Ely) Ellicott died in Solebury Twp., Bucks Co., Penna., Dec. 2, 1781 and Thomas Ellicott later married for his second wife Mrs. Rebecca Wilkinson with whom he had a son George and a daughter Rachel. She soon died and he married for his third wife on Nov. 16, 1791 Jane Kinsey, an estimable maiden lady with whom he had one daughter, Jane wife of J. C. Armstrong.

Thomas Ellicott is described as fine looking and of amiable manners and disposition. He died in Bucks Co., Penna., Jan. 25, 1799. Jane, his wife, later married William Brown and lived in Baltimore, Maryland.

THE ELY, LOWTHER, AND HEWSON LINES (Ancestors of Ruth Ellicott-Warner)

The Ely Family was a very noted family of Nottinghamshire, England. Here on Jan. 27, 1673 or 4 Joshua Ely was united in marriage to Mary Senior, daughter of Alice Senior of Skegby. They were of Quaker Faith. Joshua and Mary Ely immigrated to America between 1682 and 1685 and settled along the Delaware River in the vicinity of Trenton, N. J. To them at Trenton in 1689 was born a son named Hugh who married in 1712 to Mary Hewson. Hugh died in Buckingham Twp., Bucks Co., Penna in 1771.

To Hugh and Mary (Hewson) Ely was born a son at Trenton about 1713 named Thomas Ely. He was reared on a Buckingham farm where his father settled about 1720. Thomas Ely was married on Jan. 22, 1734 to Sarah Lowther, daughter of William and Ruth Lowther who were Quakers and immigrated to America from Ireland.

Thomas Ely and wife moved to Harford Co., Maryland in 1773. Tradition says he was drowned while fishing in the Susquehanna River near Darlington, Md. Thomas and Sarah Ely's daughter and third child was Ann Ely who married to Thomas Ellicott, but she never lived in Maryland, being married before the family moved to Maryland.

THE BYE, PEARSON, DAVIS, AND BURGESS LINES OF THE FAMILY

(Ancestors of Ruth Ellicott-Warner)

Thomas Bye, the ancestor of all the Byes of Quaker descent, came to Penna. in 1699. His family was a prominent one of Reading, England, where records of the Byes go back to 1401. For two hundred years the family gave to the city of Reading several mayors, members of Parliament, chief burgesses, and other officials. They were cloth manufactures and for the most part wealthy; one branch, retiring from business, had a country estate at Basingstoke, Hampshire, England, where they lived during the sixteenth century, marrying into the country gentry, and having their coat of arms registered in Heralds College.

Thomas Bye of the Reading-Basingstoke family was born about 1659. He was married at St. Mary's Bermondsey, Southwark, England July 3, 1670 to one Margaret Davis. Soon after this marriage Thomas and Margaret Bye joined the Society of Friends. Records of their family are found in Meeting records of Horsleydown, London.

Before 1698 John Bye, son of Thomas, had come to Penna. He went back to England and got his father in 1699. Thomas had purchased nearly 1,000 acres of land in Pennsylvania from William Penn. After they had settled here and built a little house (which is still standing and occupied by Arthur E. Bye), they sent for Margaret and the younger children. Thomas Bye's estate was in Buckingham Twp., Bucks Co., Penna. Thomas and Margaret Bye were members of the Buckingham Meeting of Friends. Here Margaret (Davis) Bye died Oct. 6, 1724 and Thomas Bye died June 25, 1726.

Children of Thomas and Margaret (Davis) Bye:

1. Thomas, Jr., b. 1671, d. 1671.
2. John, b. about 1672, m. Sarah Pearson in Penna. May 4, 1704.
3. Nathaniel, b. about 1675, (His record follows).
4. Elisabeth, b. May 20, 1678, d. June 20, 1678.
5. Elisabeth, b. Mar. of 1680, d. Sept. 14, 1681.
6. Mary (Twin of Elis.), b. Mar. of 1680, d. Sept. 30, 1680.
7. Sarah, b. Aug. 11, 1683, m. in Bucks Co., Penna. to John, son of William White.
8. Elizabeth, b. 1685, m. Nehemiah, son of Randall Blackshaw, of Falls, Penna.

Nathaniel Bye, son of Thomas and Margaret (Davis) Bye, was born in England about 1675. He came to Penna. with his father's family and settled with them in Bucks Co. He was united in marriage about 1705 to Martha Pearson, daughter of Edward and Sarah (Burgess) Pearson of Darby, Penna. who came to Penna from Cheshire, England. Martha was a sister of Sarah Pearson who married Nathaniel's brother John.

Nathaniel Bye never joined the Society of Friends. Tradition states that he was a soldier in his youth, and we know from records he was a fur trader, trading as far north as Canada, being away from home half the year. He was adopted into a tribe of Indians, lived a very adventurous life, and was eventually at his own request buried in his suit of armor. He died in Dec. of 1748.

Children of Nathaniel and Martha (Pearson) Bye:

1. Joseph, b. about 1706, m. Oct. 1750 Rebecca, dau. of Wm. Blackfan, but had no heirs.
2. Thomas, b. 1709, m. Elizabeth Ross (had heirs), d. Feb. 24, 1786.
3. Anne, b. about 1711, (Her record follows).
4. Margaret, m. 1st Reese Davis, 2nd. Oliver Heed.
5. Mary, died unmarried.
6. Martha, died unmarried.

Anne Bye, eldest daughter of Nathaniel and Martha (Pearson) Bye, was born in Bucks Co., Penna about 1711. It was she who drew the affections of the Thomas Ellicott (mentioned in Ellicott Line) and kept him and his father from returning to England in 1731. She was married to Andrew Ellicott, son of Andrew and Mary (Fox) Ellicott on Aug. 17, 1731 in Quaker Meeting at Buckingham. They had five sons whose records have been given previously. Andrew Ellicott died in June of 1741 and Anne (Bye) Ellicott married in 1744 to George Wall, an Englishman, with whom she had a son George and a daughter Mary Wall-Dixon. Anne is described as a large woman highly esteemed for her medical knowledge. She died in Bucks Co., Aug. 21, 1786.

THE LEWIS AND FOX LINES

(Ancestors of Jane Lewis-Warner)

There emigrated into Bucks Co., Penna., from Smithfield, Rhode Island, in 1748 one Thomas Lewis. He was a young man. Here in Bucks Co. he became acquainted with Sarah Watson, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Smith) Watson. Thomas Lewis and Sarah Watson were married under the care of the Buckingham Mtg. of Friends in 1754. To the above union, one child, John Lewis, was born on Feb. 10, 1757.

Thomas Lewis died about 1796 and Sarah (Watson) Lewis died a few years later. They were of Quaker faith.

John Lewis, only child of Thomas and Sarah (Watson) Lewis, was united in marriage with Rachel Fox. (No trace of Rachel Fox's ancestors could yet be found).

John Lewis became a large landholder in Bucks Co., much of which he inherited. He also purchased some land in New Jersey.

His land in Penna. was mostly in Plumstead Twp. where the home plantation was.

John Lewis died in Plumstead Twp. of Bucks Co. Mar. 24, 1837. Rachel (Fox) Lewis died Mar. 25, 1852.

Children of John and Rachel (Fox) Lewis:

WATSON AND PIERSON LINES

(Ancestors of Jane Lewis-Warner)

Thomas Watson, one of the early settlers in Buckingham Twp., Bucks Co., Penna., was a son of John and Elizabeth Watson of High Moor, Cumberland Co., Old England. He was a member of the Society of Friends and married at the Monthly Mtg. at Cockersmith, Cumberland Co., Old England on June 14, 1696 to Elinor Pierson, daughter of Thomas and Ann Pierson of Powbank, Westmorland Co., Old England.

Thomas and Elinor (Pierson) Watson with their four children emigrated to Bucks Co., Pa., about 1791. Thomas acquired a tract of land containing 400 acres in Buckingham Twp.

He had received a liberal education and took an active part in public affairs. He was commissioned Justice of the Peace of the courts of Bucks County, May 13, 1715 and held that position until his death. He was also elected member of the Assembly in 1717 serving intermittantly until 1725.

Elinor (Pierson) Watson died Jan. 8, 1716 and Thomas Watson married for his second wife Jane Read of Buckingham, who survived him. Thomas Watson died in Buckingham Twp. in April of 1731.

Thomas Watson (II), second son of Thomas and Elinor (Pierson) Watson, married at the Middletown (now Langhorne) Monthly Mtg. of Friends on April 8, 1718 to Elizabeth Smith, daughter of William and Mary (Croasdale) Smith. Thomas Watson (II) and family lived on the farm left to him by his father until his death in 1728. Elizabeth (Smith) Watson died soon also. Thomas and Elizabeth Watson had four children namely, John, Elinor, Mary, and Sarah who married in 1754 to Thomas Lewis.

This John Watson was the eccentric John Watson, surveyor. He resided with his sister Sarah (Watson) Lewis, but he was owner of the plantation. He followed his vocation of surveyor and scrivener and made most of the early surveys in Bucks Co. He was never married and at his death he left most of his estate to John Lewis, only son of his sister Sarah (Watson) Lewis. He was connected with the surveying of the noted boundary between Penna. and Md. (A record of Sarah (Watson) Lewis and family has been given.)

SMITH, CROASDALE, HAWTHORNSWAITE LINES (Ancestors of Jane Lewis-Warner)

Of the early life and ancestry of William Smith very little is known except he was a member of the Society of Friends and was a native of Yorkshire, England. He emigrated to the province of Penna. about 1684 a young man, unmarried. He served as an indentured servant to Phineas Pemberton for some time and thereby gained a general knowledge of the character of the country, its settlements, and vacant lands; then he pushed his way through the wilderness to Wrightstown Twp. where he purchased 100 acres of land. At that time there were only two or three white men living in what is now Wrightstown Twp. The Indians, however, were many and friendly. He later purchased other lands and became a large landholder.

William Smith married on Nov. 20, 1690 under care of the Middletown (now Langhorne) Mtg. of Friends to Mary Croasdale, daughter of Thomas and Agnes (Hawthornswaite) Croasdale. (A record of the Croasdale family has been given previously.)

In 1716 Mary (Croasdale) Smith died leaving eight children. William Smith then married in 1720 to Mercy----- and had with her seven children. William Smith died in 1743 on his Wrightstown farm where he had lived since settling in Wrightstown twp.

Children of William Smith with Mary Croasdale:

1. Margaret, b. 1691, m. Enoch Pearson in 1712.
2. Mary, b. 1696, m. John Atkinson in 1717.

The most remote ancestor of which is known was one Tunis Wells. Tradition gives him of Irish descent. He settled in Fayette Co., Penna. about the year of 1785. The following is an account of Tunis Wells from the history of Fayette Co., Penna.

Mr. Wells made the settlement about 1785 and losing his wife by death soon after coming, married for his second wife Margaret Williams. The farm was in Washington (now Jefferson) Twp., Fayette Co., on the waters of Redstone Creek. It has always been in the Wells name. Tunis Wells died on his Jefferson farm in 1809 and was buried in the Dunlap Creek Graveyard. His widow, Margaret (Williams) Wells, died on the same farm on Mar. 1, 1845 in the 78th year of her age and was buried at the Dunlap Creek Graveyard at Merrittstown."
